

Thank you for looking into the Great Paws Behaviour Services.

1:1 Support:

Sometimes a helping hand can make the difference between a good and great life with your pooch. In some circumstances, it can even keep you and pooch together. 1:1 training offers a truly tailored experience for you, your family and most of all your pooch.

People and dogs all have different learning styles and sometimes online courses or classes are not the most suitable scenario for you. I limit my 1:1 clients to ensure I can offer you the best support and experience possible.

My mission is to help you learn more about your dog and how to work together to achieve your goals. To do this will take commitment on your part and will not be achieved within a few hours of 1:1 sessions. Think of it like having a gym membership with support from a personal trainer, they can advise, guide and show you how to achieve your results, however the hard work and dedication from you is the real key to success. So I will support you with training plans, games and exercises for you to continue to achieve progress and results.

Dog Training often falls into two main categories, "Training" or "Behaviour".

TRAINING:

"Training" is what we undertake with dogs (often puppies/young dogs) to help them learn the skills needed for a happy life together. We often utilise classes to help you and pooch learn these, however for some, 1:1 training is a more suitable option.

BEHAVIOUR:

"Behaviour" is when our dogs have a strong emotional response to a situation or trigger which results in a reaction or response which often is not suitable for us or them. This can include barking, lunging, growling, snapping, jumping, snarling, cowering etc. These responses can often make life challenging and 1:1 support is the right way to support you in tackling these.

What does 1:1 Support include?

There are 3 main phases to our 1:1 training journey together. My role is to support and coach you to have all the skills needed to work with your pooch in a happy fun and engaging way. After every session you will receive any required notes, reports and training information (usually within 48 hours). You can also contact me via email between sessions for additional support.

Phase 1 = Analysis

This is usually completed during our first session together but in some circumstances, may be completed over several sessions for very complex issues. This phase is where I can get to know pooch much more, ask lots of questions around the issues you may face and what our training goals are. This enables us to build an achievable plan and also get to work on the foundational training elements that we will build on.

Phase 2 = Core Training

This phase starts from the second session and puts our plans into action. Here I will arm you with all the skills and abilities to work with your pooch to achieve your goals.

Phase 3 = Progress & Advancement

Dog training is partnership with another living creature and therefore is not a mechanical route to success. In this phase we tailor our plans further to ensure they working at their optimum to achieve our goals. We will also push our core training further so we can "bombproof" it and make it fit for life long success.

What to expect?

To ensure we are the best partnership to help achieve your goals, I will look to have a Meet & Greet or discovery call with you initially following your enquiry.

If you wish to work together, we can schedule our sessions and begin our work together to help your pooch.

Our time together will cover multiple aspects including control and management, theory, practical training exercises and more.

I don't like to downplay the effort, commitment, changes and passion you will need to help your pooch work towards the goals we agree on, but we will do everything we can to make it fun and enjoyable. A wise person once said, how can we expect things to change if we do not change ourselves.

So if you are ready to work hard, then I can't wait to support you and your pooch!

Commitment to you!

The dog training and behaviour industry is unregulated and unlicensed. I pride myself on my continual professional development with some of the UK and world's leading Force Free training experts and organisations.

However if I ever feel my skills and expertise will not deliver the results we are working towards, I will discuss this with you and support a referral to a suitable alternative professional.
